

Morning Star Ministries Update March 2017

Dear Friends,

Time is flying past as always but we are seeing good things happen!

The electricity supply to the new school is working well and the drainage has finally been completed. Praise God! We now have time to do some further equipping and staff recruitment before we make the big move. In the meantime we are happy to be making use of the building on an almost daily basis. ☺

Health Issues

Many of you will know that one of our key support workers, Baljit, a lovely Christian young man, was hit by a motorbike a few weeks ago and sustained an open fracture of his left tibia. He was taken to hospital swiftly and after infection screening was clear, he was able to have the bone fixed with a rod. A great answer to all our prayers. He is now convalescing at home, the stitches are out but it will be a while before he is fit for duty again. Do please keep him in your prayers.

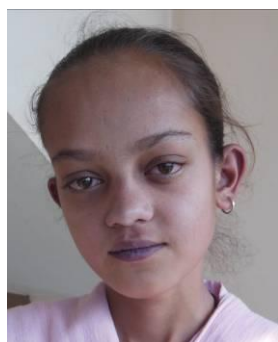

Kulvir Ram (left) has now completed three cycles of chemotherapy to treat a localised cancer and will be reviewed to see what the best way ahead for him is. It might involve further cycles of chemotherapy to see if this will shrink the tumour or considering alternative care.

Sanaz, a precious five year old girl, with cerebral atrophy, joined our infants' class at the beginning of the year. She was very withdrawn and her coordination was very poor. Since coming to us daily and having dedicated patient caring input from two volunteers, she is making great progress. What a joy to see a life being transformed in Jesus' name. Thanks, great volunteering! If you have the love of Jesus' in your heart and time on your hands could you consider applying as a volunteer with Morning Star?

Education

It is the end of academic year exam season again in India. We have Kaloo, Kirendee and Navjot taking GCSE 'A' Level equivalents and Ajay re-taking some elements.

Nikesh and Atesh are taking GCSE 'O' Level equivalents.

All the other children and young people in class 1 and above will be taking local exams to assess their progress and see if they are ready to move up to the next class.

They will all appreciate knowing you are praying for them at what is a stressful time for many.

All our staff would value your prayers too!

Thank you once again for your continued support.

With love in Jesus' name,

All at Morning Star
